To Whom It May Concern,

Medical Equipment Compliance Associates (MECA) is a Medical Device testing lab, supporting a range of medical manufacturers in their compliance needs. We provide services from early design stage to final construction compliance testing.

We are seeing an increase in the use of wireless an RF technology with ``state of the art`` applications to augment medical devices. We are happy to turn to Global EMC Inc. to carry out the Wireless, RF and other EMC testing.

Our clients typically deal directly with the Global EMC engineers, and their experience has always been positive. Global`s engineers are knowledgeable, and have used their broad EMC experience to address client`s needs. They responded quickly to queries, and deal with compliance issues in a professional manner.

Yours Truly,
